Smart Technology

T-Rex SmartRehab device uses remote monitoring and compliance capabilities to deliver in-home physical rehabilitation through controlled exercises and stretching activities. T-Rex devices break down scar tissue by emulating the high intensity stretches performed by a patient's physical therapist. Our new Smart Technology records data from each session, allowing therapists, doctors, and patient administrators to monitor patient progress and compliance remotely. Usage of T-Rex devices and SmartRehab will get patients back to work faster and with better results!
